

The Big Tiny House Event

Tiny Houses in the Midwest: how they fit into peoples lives, communities and futures

Join the Growing Community of "Going Tiny"

On Saturday, April 25th, the Center for Sustainable Communities at Luther College is hosting local tiny house owners and enthusiasts who will present their stories, motivations, and knowledge of the go-tiny movement, followed by an informal table Expo giving participants an opportunity to ask questions.

Hundreds of people have downsized to homes of 50-400 sq. ft. which are more environmentally sensitive and efficient, enable money savings, and maximize time and energy available for friends, family, and their community.

Grant & Anna Olson - Grant has personal experience in tiny home building and living, and the pair has a designed a tiny home with construction starting in early April.

Greg Johnson - Founded the online resource, Small House Society, with Jay Shafer in 2002. He also lived in a tiny home from 2003-2009, and continues to be an advocate.

Kim & Ryan Kasl - Live in a 207 sq. ft. home with their two children, and were featured in a FYI's Tiny House Nation Episode.

Saturday, April 25th
10am-12:30pm
Luther College-
Valders 206

Contact
Jonathan Williams
willjo08@luther.edu
(319) 330-4053

Environmental Science & Biology
700 college Drive
Decorah, IA 52101

This event is free and open to the public!!